Charateristics

tannin-based integral extract of natural origin, derived from 100% Italian chestnut wood, without additives or artificial colouring. Applied on the lawn, it stimulates a defensive reaction and activates the development of natural substances against diseases such as brown patch, Pythium, Sclerotinia. Moreover it encourages rooting, as it creates an environment particularly favourable to the normal growth and development of the root apparatus, improving also the vitality of the soil. It leaves no residue on the plants. Its components are in fact compatible with the environment and harmless to man.
