Charateristics

natural biological soil conditioner obtained from the transformation of manure through earthworms. Also known as black magic, the earthworm humus is an odourless organic food rich in nourishment, highly valued for its ability to make the soil loose and light, to retain moisture and fertilizers longer so that the plant roots can develop more easily, needing less irrigation and less treatments. Ideal for plants in pot or in the soil, vegetables, lawns.

How to use

at the time of repotting, mix 1 litre humus every 10 litres substratum; for potted plants cover the soil with a thin layer of humus; for planted out plants scatter 3-4 handfuls at the base of each plant; for lawns scatter 3-4 handfuls per m²; for horticulture bury 3-4 handfuls per m² at the time of pre-sowing or pre-transplanting. Repeat after about 5-6 months.
